SUMMARY

Passionate Web Developer | UI/UX Designer with a Drive for Innovation

Enthusiastic about coding since 2020, I embarked on my journey with short courses, progressively advancing to complete two online courses from Harvard University via edX. By 2021, I proudly earned certification as a proficient web developer, specializing in Python and JavaScript. My expertise extends to crafting modern, sleek, and responsive web projects and applications. Committed to delivering excellence, I prioritize creating designs with contemporary aesthetics, optimal performance, and seamless user experiences.

As a GitHub Campus Expert (23/24), I am dedicated to staying ahead of industry trends. Actively learning and adapting to new frameworks like Vite and React, along with mastering libraries such as GSAP and CSS libraries like Tailwind, I ensure my skill set is not just current but cutting-edge.

Continuously seeking challenges and opportunities to apply my knowledge, I am currently interested in AI , UI/UX, digital marketing, web, music and design.
